[redacted] who has been providing reliable information since December of 1973, has advised that a loosely knit group of black gangs calling themselves The Black Family, are currently engaging in many types of illegal activities, including burglaries, armed robberies, prostitution, check passing, and gambling. Source advised that the common bond between these gangs is the sale of illicit narcotics. b7D

Source advised that following the incarceration of [redacted] a brief power struggle ensued between a number of persons in the black community for control of the narcotics operation. Source advised that among these were persons like [redacted], [redacted], [redacted], and [redacted] (phonetic). At this time, an individual named [redacted] residing in [redacted] telephone [redacted], previously unknown to the source, emerged on the scene and apparently gained overall control of the major supply of heroin and cocaine. Source advised that this had the effect of more or less solidifying the dealers and pushers under one man and apparently giving rise to "The Black Family." b6

Source advised that [redacted] a black male from [redacted] is apparently a large supplier for [redacted] and is second in the hierarchy of The Black Family. Under [redacted] and [redacted] is [redacted] aka [redacted] [redacted] a well known heavy dealer in narcotics. Under [redacted] a number of gangs or groups of blacks, each with their own leader, exists, among these being [redacted] and [redacted]. b6

Source pointed out that each of these groups has a number of "members" and that each has its own type of illegal activity which it engages in, such as prostitution, gambling, checks, armed robbery, etc. Position in the family is dependent upon financial wealth and access to supply of drugs, in particular, heroin and cocaine. Source attributed several recent murders in Milwaukee to The Black Family, those being FREDDIE JONES, who was found in an alley on the North Side, apparently dead of an overdose, and FELIX WINTER, who was recently shot and killed in Kenosha County. Source advised that both of these slayings were drug related and observed that FELIX WINTER had stolen a shipment of cocaine and was subsequently killed or ordered killed by [redacted] and a black male known to him as [redacted]

Source advised that the emergence of the Black Family in Milwaukee has enabled the black criminal to present a fairly solidified front in the face of the opposition from other gangs or organizations which attempt to establish themselves in the black community in Milwaukee.

On 1/30/76, source identified the following Milwaukee Police Department photographs as being members of The Black Family:

Black Syndicate Takes Hold Here

By Richard L. Kenyon of The Journal Staff

A Black Mafia — a criminal organization of blacks dedicated to getting rich and apparently not above killing and torture — has developed in Milwaukee.

The organization is not much more than a year old, but many sources say it could surpass the Italian Mafia in organizational strength and capacity for violence.

Many sources said they believed narcotics trafficking would do for the Black Mafia what bootlegging during Prohibition did for the Italian Mafia 50 years ago; that is, provide a source of power and profit.

Members of the organization call themselves The Family, sources said. They have modeled their structure after the traditional Italian Mafia with a don or boss, underboss, lieutenants and soldiers.

The size of the group could not be learned.

Federal, state and local police officers have been reluctant to talk about the Black Mafia. Some of them admit, however, that there is a Black Mafia in Milwaukee and that its primary concern is narcotics trafficking.

"There have been blacks deeply involved in major drug activity in Milwaukee for a number of years," one police source said. "Many of these major drug operators now belong to the inner workings of the Black Mafia or Family."

Other sources said the Black Mafia was beginning to control more gambling operations and some burglary and fencing rings.

Contacts for Years

"It's limited, though, you know," one said. "Like in stolen property — it takes white contacts to unload stolen goods for decent money. It takes a while to get these contacts."

Sources said black narcotics dealers had had contacts with whites for years, principally with Italian mob figures, since blacks had been necessary to the Italian Mafia for the distribution of narcotics in the black community.

"We're certain that Italian mafiosi have financially backed some of the large narcotics transactions made recently by blacks," said one state official.

The Milwaukee Journal reported in November that the Black Mafia had been able to grow and strengthen itself as the Italian Mafia moved away from control of organized criminal activity.

As the blacks take control of gambling, prostitution and narcotics, the Italians, according to sources, have been moving toward white collar crimes, such as bank frauds.

Descriptions of the Black Mafia offered by Inner City sources bear similarities to the traditional Italian Mafia.

"Mean, Nasty"

"The Family," said one black source, "has a set of rules like the Italians. Like silence and loyalty and taking your bumps if you get caught by the police."

"These people are mean and they're nasty. You don't cross them. They don't care one about wasting somebody."

A source said The Family was behind the killing last February of Thomas (Tommy Slick) West, 26. He was killed in his N. 24th Pl. apartment with a shotgun and a pistol.

"It was a drug related thing," the source said. "They wasted him when he failed to pay money that was owed."

Columbia University sociologist Francis Ianni, who has specialized in the study of organized crime, suggested that Black Mafias are significantly different from Italian Mafias in at least one respect — militancy. He wrote in 1974:

"What could serve to strengthen the organization of black organized crime networks and, more important, bring them together under one code of behavior . . . is black militancy. Previous ethnic groups involved with organized crime — the Irish, the Jews and the Italians — were desperately trying to become 'Americans.'

Family Structure

"Now, however, the blacks are beginning to come into importance in organized crime at a time when being black, being a brother or a sister, serves to create a family type structure based upon militancy."

Sources said the Black Mafia here originated at a black social club in the Inner City, which continues to operate. The don or head of The Family was a leader of the club, sources said.

He was described by acquaintances as quiet and soft spoken, about 40, and known for his ability to become quite violent.

Members of The Family are often seen at a popular North Side tavern.

Many Unaware

"Most of the people in the black community are not aware of The Family," one source said. "Those that do know about it — mostly the older people — are totally against it. Many of the younger people think of the members as some kind of heroes — walking cocky, driving nice wheels, wearing nice clothes."

"A lot of people, though, see drugs in the neighborhood and blame Whitey for it, not The Family."

The district attorney's office became more interested in the Black Mafia this week. The office charged two men, Isaac Haskins, 34, no current address, and Robert J. Neely, 25, of 2954 N. Booth St., with armed burglary, false imprisonment, threats to injure and administering a dangerous drug.

Heroin Use Alleged

According to the complaint against them, the charges resulted from their attempts to get money they claimed was taken from them. The complaint stated that Neely told his alleged victims: "You can't rob The Syndicate and get away with that."

A woman named in the complaint as one of the alleged victims claimed that heroin was injected in both her arms to make her talk about the alleged theft.

The woman also claimed that she was told on Dec. 11, the night of the alleged incidents, that she and her baby would be killed if she did not help Haskins and Neely find those responsible for robbing them, according to the complaint.

Haskins, the complaint stated, told a second woman that he had been robbed of $4,000 and jewelry and wanted to know where the thieves were.

One person Haskins and Neely were seeking, according to the complaint, was Felix Winters, 25. His frozen body was found near Kenosha on Dec. 27. He had been shot five times.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard Trujillo of the office's organized crime unit said he was looking into the existence of a Black Mafia and the possible membership in it of Haskins and Neely.

Murder Charges Filed Against Two

SD-6715

First degree murder charges were issued against two men Thursday in a fatal shooting that officials said was linked to black organized crime.

Officials said a third man would have been charged had he not been found dead Wednesday of an apparent suicide.

Charged in the Jan. 1 slaying of Bobbie Dale Johnson, 23, of 2208 W. Lloyd St., were Johnson's brother, Lelon Johnson, 32, of the Lloyd St. address, and Eugene Terrell, 26.

Terrell already was being held in the County Jail on another first degree murder charge. Johnson was being held in southern California on a minor drug charge.

The third suspect in the Johnson slaying, Robert Cameron, 32, was found dead in a car in Lake Forest, Ill. At the time, he was being sought in connection with the fatal shooting of a 19 year old man Tuesday night and the abduction and rape of a 17 year old girl.

Police sources said Bobbie Johnson was killed because of a double cross in a drug deal.

His body was found in an alley behind 2926 N. 18th St. He had been shot in the head and chest.

Officials said two teenagers witnessed the incident and are now in protective custody because of threats made on their lives.

The second murder charge against Terrell involves the Nov. 8 fatal shooting of Ronald Cobbs, 25, of 2512 N. 7th St. Cobbs was shot in an apartment in the 1700 block of W. Center St. that officials said was used as an after hours club.

Terrell is scheduled to appear at a preliminary hearing in that case Friday.

The fatal shooting that preceded Cameron's suicide occurred at the home of Cameron's estranged wife, Rosa Mae Cameron, 1844 N. 26th St.

The victim, Clarence R. Kendrick, Mrs. Cameron's nephew, was tied up and then shot. A 17 year old girl who was in the house told police she was raped by Kendrick's slayer who released her in Lake Forest.

On 3/26/76, source claimed that there does not exist any formally organized group known as the "Black Family." Source stated that this phase was apparently coined by [redacted] a member of the Equal's Club who is currently facing prosecution for his part in the murder of FELIX WINTERS, one of [redacted] pushers/junkies. b6 b7C

Source went on to say that apparently the terms "Black Family" and "Equal's Club" are being used synonymously. The Equal's Club, according to the source, is the only large-scale, social black organization within the Milwaukee area; some of whose members are involved in criminal activities outside of the group's direction. There is no club leadership which is directing any organized criminal activity in the Milwaukee area. There is a small number of members of the club who socialize, and on an "individual" basis are involved in criminal activities.

Investigation regarding the Equals Club was first instituted in the Milwaukee Division on 1/5/73 (MIFile 92-1169). At that time it was determined that the Equals Club was a black social club dominated by a coalition of local tavern owners, businessmen and other individuals, some of which are involved in assorted criminal activities. Certain individual members of the club will finance narcotics operations in the core area of Milwaukee. This apparently is one of the main sources of income. DETAILS:PREDICATION

Investigation in this matter was predicated on the specific request by United States Attorney (USA) WILLIAM J. MULLIGAN, Eastern District of Wisconsin (EDW), Milwaukee. MULLIGAN stated based on newspaper reports Sources whose identities are concealed herein have furnished reliable information in the past except where otherwise noted.

and discussions with personnel of the Milwaukee County District Attorney's Office, he believed a sizable element of black organized crime existed in the Milwaukee area, and its illegal activities related to narcotics, prostitution, gambling and stolen property. USA MULLIGAN desired that an initial investigation be instituted to determine if Federal laws were being violated.

On January 19, 1976, an article appeared in the Milwaukee Journal, a local Milwaukee newspaper, alluding to the fact that a black syndicate, also referred to as the Black Mafia and the Black Family, had developed recently in the Milwaukee area. The article went on to say that the organization was less than a year old but many sources said it could surpass the Italian Mafia in organizational strength and capacity for violence. Said unnamed sources believed narcotics trafficking was the main source of power and profit for this organization. Members of the organization call themselves The Family, sources said. They modeled their structure allegedly after the traditional Italian Mafia with boss, underboss, lieutenants and soldiers.

Alleged contact with state and local officers, who apparently have been reluctant to talk about the Black Mafia, indicated that its (The Family) primary concern is narcotics trafficking. The article intimated that The Family was behind the killing of THOMAS (TOMMY SLICK) WEST during February, 1976. WEST had been killed in his apartment with a shotgun and a pistol. According to a source, SLICK was allegedly "wasted when he failed to pay money that was owed."

Other unnamed sources said that the Black Mafia in Milwaukee had originated at a black social club in the innercity (not further identified but believed to be the Equals Club) which continues to operate. The don or head of The Family was a leader of the club, sources said. The article also stated that most of the people in the black community are not aware of "The Family." The article further stated that the Milwaukee County District Attorney's Office became interested in the Black Mafia during the week of January 19, 1976. The Office had charged two men, ISAAC HASKINS and ROBERT J. NEEDY with armed burglary, false imprisonment, threats to injure and administering a dangerous drug.

According to the complaint against them, charges resulted from HASKINS and NEEDY's attempts to get money they claimed was taken from them. The complaint stated that NEEDY told his alleged victims "You can't stop The Syndicate and get away with it."

One person HASKINS and NEEDY were seeking, according to the complaint, was FELIX WINTERS. His frozen body was found near Kenosha, Wisconsin, on December 27, 1975. He had been shot five times.

On February 3, 1976, MI T-1 advised that a loosely-knit group of black gangs calling themselves The Black Family were currently engaging in many types of illegal activities including burglary, armed robbery, prostitution, check passing and gambling. Source advised that the common bond between these gangs was the sale of illicit narcotics.

Source advised that following the incarceration of [redacted] a brief power struggle ensued between a number of persons in The Black Family for the control of narcotics operation. Source went on to say that among these were individuals such as [redacted]

b7c

[redacted] Additionally, an individual named [redacted] last name unknown, previously unknown to the source, emerged on the scene and apparently gained overall control of the major supply of heroin and cocaine. Source advised that this had the effect of more or less solidifying the dealers and pushers under one man and apparently giving rise to "The Black Family."

MI 92-1554

Source advised that [redacted] a black male from [redacted] is apparently a large supplier for [redacted] last name unknown and is second in the hierarchy of The Black Family. Under [redacted] and [redacted] is [redacted] also known as [redacted] [redacted] a well-known heavy dealer in narcotics. Under [redacted] a number of gangs or groups of blacks each with their own leader exists, among these being [redacted] and [redacted]

b7c

Source pointed out that each of these groups has a number of members and that each has its own type of illegal activity which it engages in, such as prostitution, gambling, checks, armed robbery, et cetera.

Position in The Family is dependent upon financial wealth and access to the supply of narcotics, in particular, heroin and cocaine. Source attributed several recent murders in Milwaukee to The Black Family, those being FREDDIE JONES, who was found in an alley on the north side of Milwaukee, apparently died of an overdose and FELIX WINTERS, who was recently shot and killed in Kenosha County. Source advised that both of these slayings were drug related and observed that FELIX WINTERS had stolen a shipment of cocaine and was subsequently killed or ordered killed by [redacted]

b7c

On February 5, 1976, MI T-2 advised that the only organized black group in the Milwaukee area is those individuals on the Board of Directors of the Equals Club headed by [redacted] also known as [redacted] Source further stated regarding the Equals Club, it is a very lucrative business in that the Board of Directors obtains proceeds from the club only so far as the club makes money selling liquor and proceeds from gambling and other activity within the club itself. Source stated that individually the directors of the Equals are involved in all types of illegal activity specifically

b6
b7c

MI 92-1554

dealing in stolen merchandise, narcotics and prostitution; however, source does not believe that those individuals work together on a continuing basis in any of this illegal activity. Source stated that it has been his experience as a result of living [redacted] years in the inner core area and associating with all type of criminals that no two black individuals are close with each other on a continuing basis in any illegal activity.

b7C

Source went on to advise that the activity conducted by [redacted] was nothing more than a bunch of junkies working for [redacted] and trying to push a very low grade of narcotics for him. Source stated that [redacted] is absolutely no good and treats these people badly. Source said that as a result of [redacted] mistreatment of his subordinates, an individual by the name of FELIX WINTERS, a former pusher for [redacted] and three other unknown individuals, held him up and robbed him.

b6
b7C

Source also indicated that [redacted] was not well organized at all and that anyone with any brains would not have been so open in their threats to kill WINTERS.

b6
b7C

Source further stated that regarding the article in the Milwaukee Journal concerning the alleged Black Family in the Milwaukee area, the mild manner [redacted] year old black leader of this alleged Black Family is no other than [redacted] also known as [redacted] the head of the Equals. Source stated that because of the pressure brought upon the Equals Club as a result of [redacted] being involved in the murder of FELIX WINTERS, he has been voted out by the other members of the club.

On February 19, 1976, MI T-3 advised that what had been recently referred to in the local news media reports as The Black Family was, in fact, identifiable with certain individual members of the Equals Club. Source said that these certain members of the Equals are deeply involved in drug trafficking, which is the main source of income for them. MI T-3 indicated that beginning around March, 1973, and up until January, 1976, there had been a series of murders in Milwaukee which were directly related to and attributable to individuals associated with the Equals Club. MI T-3 said all of these murders appear to be as a result of a struggle within the drug trafficking area.

On February 25, 1976, MI T-2 advised that the respect that members occasionally pool money to buy a large "bag." A large bag is defined as a larger supply of narcotics which is more readily obtained than if each member tried to make his own connections.

Source also indicated that board members also will help each other regarding legal difficulties and have been known to chip in and furnish a member who is down on his luck with a small bag. Source advised that the board members all have "their own thing" and do not necessarily depend on each other for the operation of their individual businesses.

Source said that they are each aware of the other's activities, occasionally assisting each other; however, they do not necessarily pool all their resources.

On March 4, 1976, MI T-4 advised that although he has had no recent contact with members of the Equals Club, he did have association with various members. Source said that narcotics trafficking and gambling were the main activities occurring at the club. However, he has never heard that the club members were organized along any formal lines concerning perpetration of criminal activities in the Milwaukee area. Source said that the name Black Family had only recently been known to him subsequent to reading the newspaper account concerning same.

Source felt that the social club referred to in the article was the Equals Club and that allegedly "The Black Family" name was being used synonymously with the Equals Club.

On March 22, 1975, MI T-5 said she has heard the expression Black Family; however, she believes that The Black Family is just another name being used for the Equals. In reference to any organized prostitution activities occurring at the Equals Club, source advised from her experience in the area of prostitution, she does not believe any prostitution activities are operated out of Milwaukee by more than one individual. In other words, source says that each pimp conducts his own business and has his own ladies, although the pimps do associate with each other socially at the Equals.

On March 26, 1976, MI T-2 reiterated that there does not exist any formally organized group known as "The Black Family." Source stated that this phrase was apparently coined by [redacted] and [redacted] who are currently facing prosecution for their part in the murder of FELIX WINTERS.

b7C

Source went on to say that apparently the terms "Black Family" and "Equals Club, are being used synonymously in the Milwaukee area. The Equals Club according to the source, is the only large scale social black organization within the Milwaukee area, some of whose members are involved in criminal activities outside of the club's direction. There is no group leadership which is directing any organized criminal activity in the Milwaukee area. There is a small number of members of the club who socialize and on an "individual basis" are involved in criminal activities.

Source further stated that outside of the big money dice and card games conducted at the club, narcotics trafficking is the main area of criminal activity occurring among members.

Source also said that the individual identified as [redacted] the alleged head of "The Black Family," is known personally to him as [redacted] according to the source, holds a legitimate job at [redacted] and is not the head of "The Black Family." Source knows of no large scale black drug dealers within the Milwaukee area. He stated, however, that trips are made by both plane and car to the West Coast and Mexico in order to purchase narcotics but that he has never heard of any major drug dealings. In fact, he said that lately he has only heard of small deals where individuals are selling small packages of cocaine from a given amount (commonly referred to as chipping).

On April 21, 1976, Special Agent [redacted] [redacted] Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), conferred with Special Agent [redacted] Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) concerning the activities of [redacted] also known as [redacted]. [redacted] said that his agency has a current pending investigation concerning [redacted] and his drug activities. He also said that DEA is thoroughly aware of drug trafficking at the Equals Club. Contact with DEA sources concerning the existence of any formally organized club referring to themselves as The Black Family has met with negative results.

b7c

[redacted] said that he does not believe an organization known as The Black Family exists and that probably this term emerged from the newspaper articles concerning certain drug-related murders and activities occurring within the Milwaukee area in recent months.
